

PREWRITING THINK SHEET

TOPIC: My response to the question about how much freedom people have to make career choices.

SECTION A: Who will be my AUDIENCE? My brother, because we both disagree about this subject.

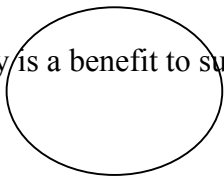

What is my PURPOSE for writing? Use examples and my experience to show how my opinion is more accurate.

SECTION B: What are some things that I already know about this topic?

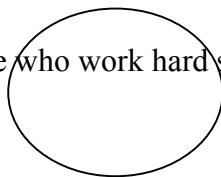

1. People from different social and economic classes have different opportunities.
2. My friend, Mark, was wrongly busted for dealing drugs. Now it is on his record, and he cannot get a good job.
3. This girl I know from school has a father who is a doctor. He has money to send her to a better college.
4. My friend Miriam cannot get a scholarship, so she has to work full-time and go to school part-time.
5. My older sister worked very hard and got her degree in business. Now she is a regional manager.

SECTION C: Possible ways to GROUP IDEAS from SECTION B

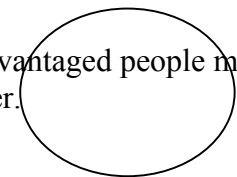

Money is a benefit to success.

People who work hard succeed.

Disadvantaged people must work harder.

Doctor's daughter has more benefits than a disadvantaged person.	My sister worked very hard.	My friend Mark was busted and ruined his employment opportunities.
		Miriam has a lot of motivation because she works and goes to school.

SECTION D: ROUGH DRAFT paragraphs
